William Preston Dickinson was born in Greenwich Village to parents of British ancestry and attended public schools in New York. By his late teens, his drawing ability had attracted the attention of a supporter who paid Dickinson's way to the Art Students League of New York, where he studied for four years.

Following formal schooling, Dickinson studied in Europe, like many young American artists during the decade before the first World War. He was interested in new trends in art, and after rejecting Impressionism, he turned to the examples of Cezanne and of Cubism and Futurism that he had found while he was a student in Paris between 1911 and 1914.

Especially stimulated by his studies in various European museums, Dickinson eventually returned to New York, where he found a small but supportive artistic community centered around a handful of galleries showing modern work. Among these were Alfred Stieglitz's "291" Gallery and the galleries of Stephan Bourgeois and Charles Daniel.

Dickinson was best known for his association with the "Precisionists," a group of artists of whom Daniel became the champion. Precisionists' works were characterized by precise technique, simplification of form, a mixture of realistic and abstract design, and frequent reliance on industrial and urban themes and indigenous American subjects.

The late teens and early 1920s was a period of intense exploration and growth in Dickinson's work, which moved toward a somewhat freer, more expressive manner of painting. Dickinson's Cubistic Interior has transparent planes, dynamic curving forms, tilted perspective and some textured surfaces and flat, diagrammatic faceting. By adding purely abstract elements and merging the still-life objects with their surroundings, Dickinson moves toward Cubism. The rushing curves seem Futurist-inspired, and the impression created is one of great activity and movement. Dickinson's Cubistic Interior was one of the original 100 paintings given to the Museum by Alfred Holbrook and is one of the Museum's most frequently exhibited paintings.

The University of Georgia

Institutional Research and Planning

December 16, 1999

Dear Friends and Colleagues:

This has been a very good year at The University of Georgia, and we are proud once again to share with you The University of Georgia Fact Book which documents our University's ongoing achievements and successes.

If you have questions about the information in the Fact Book, please contact us. The University of Georgia is an excellent, exciting institution, and we are happy to share these official data that describe its many dimensions.

Sincerely,

David G. Clements
Director

PREFACE

Fall 1999 brought the highest enrollment ever to the University of Georgia, when 30,912 students enrolled. The University employed almost 9,600 faculty and staff, had a budget of nearly a billion dollars, and owned and maintained 14.7 million square feet of space for its teaching, research, and public service activities.

To all of this, add the activity of new initiatives, including implementation of the University's Physical Master Plan, construction of new buildings such as the Student Learning Center, formulation of a new strategic plan, and establishment of new traditions as with the University's first Opening Convocation on August 22, 1999. These and other developments create an exciting atmosphere at the University, one that is fueling the University's steady advance within the ranks of the finest public universities in the country.

For 30 years the UGA Fact Book has chronicled the growth of the University, providing comparable and reliable data over time. Please let me know of additional data that you believe would add to the value of the document.

We appreciate the many University offices and individuals that help provide the data. All Institutional Research & Planning staff members also assist with production of the Fact Book in some way. I especially appreciate this team effort. For eleven years Debbie Holliday has had the demanding task of updating the pages for publication. Michelle Meadows has helped extensively with production for the past two years.

We appreciate the many comments we receive about this publication and trust that this 31st edition will again prove helpful to the University's many friends and constituents.

GENERAL INFORMATION

THE UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA PERSPECTIVE

Just after the close of the American Revolution, the Georgia legislature took a step that was to start another revolution--this one in higher education. In 1785, Georgia became the first state in the nation to grant a charter for a state-supported university, a decision setting the precedent whereby states would provide for the higher education of their citizens.

The infant University existed for sixteen years on paper only, without campus, money, faculty, or students. Finally in 1801 a site was selected for the campus, and the first few students began to trickle into the newly formed frontier town of Athens. That first year the faculty consisted only of the College president, Josiah Meigs. Classes were held in a primitive log structure while the University, then called Franklin College, waited for its first permanent building.

From such tenuous beginnings, The University of Georgia has grown to become a major teaching, research, and service institution with over 2,900 full-time faculty, 13 colleges, and a physical plant serving almost 31,000 students. The main campus covers 611 acres, and the University owns extensive acreage across the state. Off-campus centers and experiment stations carry University services to all parts of the state, directly affecting the lives of millions through continuing education, specialized institutes, and applied research.

From its original classical curriculum, the University's scope and diversity of degree programs have grown dramatically. At the undergraduate level, the University provides an associate degree and 19 baccalaureate degrees with concentrations in 177 major fields. At the graduate level, it offers 24 master's degrees in 146 areas of concentration, 22 educational specialist degree programs, and doctoral degrees--Ph.D., Ed.D., D.M.A., and D.P.A.--in 108 areas. In addition, professional degree programs are available in law (JD), pharmacy (PHARM.D.), and veterinary medicine (DVM). The University's research programs combine to make it one of the largest research institutions in the country.

The rich heritage of the tree-shaded campus of Franklin College, now the University's Franklin College of Arts and Sciences, has been preserved in spite of extensive campus expansion to provide modern classroom and laboratory facilities. The arch at the campus entrance, the 1806 Old College structure which now houses administrative offices, and other early nineteenth-century buildings renovated for continuing use offer quiet tribute to Georgia's 200-year commitment to provide quality education for its citizens. The 400,000 square-foot Ramsey Student Physical Activity Center, the School of Music Performance Halls and Classroom Building, and the Georgia Museum of Art are the first buildings to be occupied in the new east campus area. Their bold architecture reflects the exciting growth and development occurring at the University.

The most complete account of this institution's long and interesting history is T. G. Dyer's The University of Georgia: A Bicentennial History, 1785-1985. Several other studies provide insight into various periods of the University's history: E. M. Coulter, College Life in the Old South; A. L. Hull, A Historical Sketch of The University of Georgia; H. C. Tuck, Four Years at The University of Georgia, 1877-1881; and R. P. Brooks, The University of Georgia Under Sixteen Administrations, 1785-1955. F. N. Boney's Pictorial History of The University of Georgia, published during the University's Bicentennial, S. Abell's, The University of Georgia, a book of photographs commissioned by the Alumni Society in 1987, and F. N. Boney's A Walking Tour of The University of Georgia, issued in 1989 by The University of Georgia Press, provide additional insight, background, and color to the University's history and traditions.

CHARTER OF THE UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA
PREAMBLE

As it is the distinguishing happiness of free governments that civil Order should be the Result of choice and not necessity, and the common wishes of the People become the Laws of the Land, their public prosperity and even existence very much depends upon suitably forming the minds and morals of their Citizens. When the Minds of people in general are viciously disposed and unprincipled and their Conduct disorderly, a free government will be attended with greater Confusions and with Evils more horrid than the wild, uncultivated State of Nature. It can only be happy where the public principles and Opinions are properly directed and their Manners regulated. This is an influence beyond the Stretch of Laws and punishments and can be claimed only by Religion and Education. It should therefore be among the first objects of those who wish well to the national prosperity to encourage and support the principles of Religion and morality, and early to place the youth under the forming hand of Society that by instruction they may be moulded to the love of Virtue and good Order. Sending them abroad to other countries for their education will not answer these purposes,—is too humiliating an acknowledgement of the Ignorance or Inferiority of our own, and will always be the Cause of so great foreign attachments that upon principles of policy it is not admissible. This Country in the times of our common danger and distress found such Security in the principles and abilities which wise regulations had before established in the minds of our countrymen, that our present happiness joined to pleasing prospects should conspire to make us feel ourselves under the strongest obligation to form the youth, the rising hope of our Land to render the like glorious and essential Services to our country. And whereas for the great purpose of internal education, divers allotments of land have, at different times, been made, particularly by the Legislature at their Session in July One thousand seven hundred and eighty three, and February One thousand seven hundred and eighty four, all of which may be comprehended and made the basis of one general, and complete establishment.

THEREFORE the Representatives of the Freemen of the State of Georgia in general Assembly met this twenty seventh day of January in the Year of our Lord One Thousand seven hundred and eighty five enact, ordain, and declare, and by these presents, it is ENACTED, ORDAINED and DECLARED.

Abraham Baldwin
President, University of Georgia
1785-1801

THE MISSION OF THE UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA

The University of Georgia, a land-grant and sea-grant university with statewide commitments and responsibilities, is the state's oldest, most comprehensive, and most diversified institution of higher education. Its motto, "to teach, to serve, and to inquire into the nature of things," reflects the University's integral and unique role in the conservation and enhancement of the state's and nation's intellectual, cultural, and environmental heritage.

The University of Georgia shares with the other research universities of the University System of Georgia the following core characteristics:

- * a statewide responsibility and commitment to excellence and academic achievements having national and international recognition;
- * a commitment to excellence in a teaching/learning environment dedicated to serve a diverse and well-prepared student body, to promote high levels of student achievement, and to provide appropriate academic support services;
- * a commitment to excellence in research, scholarship, and creative endeavors that are focused on organized programs to create, maintain, and apply new knowledge and theories; that promote instructional quality and effectiveness; and that enhance institutionally relevant faculty qualifications;
- * a commitment to excellence in public service, economic development, and technical assistance activities designed to address the strategic needs of the State of Georgia along with a comprehensive offering of continuing education designed to meet the needs of Georgia's citizens in life-long learning and professional education;
- * a wide range of academic and professional programming at the baccalaureate, master's, and doctoral levels.

With its statewide mission and core characteristics, the University of Georgia endeavors to prepare the University community and the state for full participation in the global society of the twenty-first century. Through its programs and practices, it seeks to foster the understanding of and respect for cultural differences necessary for an enlightened and educated citizenry. It further provides for cultural, ethnic, gender, and racial diversity in the faculty, staff, and student body. The University is committed to preparing the University community to appreciate the critical importance of a quality environment to an interdependent global society.

As a comprehensive land-grant—sea-grant institution, the University of Georgia offers baccalaureate, master's, doctoral, and professional degrees in the arts, humanities, social sciences, biological sciences, physical sciences, agricultural and environmental sciences, business, environmental design, family and consumer sciences, forest resources, journalism and mass communication, education, law, pharmacy, social work, and veterinary medicine.

The University attracts students nationally and internationally as well as from within Georgia. It offers the state's broadest array of possibilities in graduate and professional education, and thus a large minority of the student body is post-baccalaureate. The predominantly Georgian undergraduate student body is a mix of highly qualified students originally admitted as freshmen and selected transfer students principally from other University System institutions.

With original scholarship, basic and applied research, and creative activities constituting an essential core from which to draw, the impact of the land-grant—sea-grant mission is reflected throughout the state. Cooperative extension, continuing education, public service, experiment stations, and technology transfer are all designed to enhance the well-being of the citizens of Georgia through their roles in economic, social, and community development.

As it has been historically, the University of Georgia is responsive to the evolution of the state's educational, social, and economic needs. It aspires through its strategic planning to even closer contact and interaction with public and private institutions throughout the state as well as with the citizens it serves.

THE UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA STRATEGIC PLAN

The institutional goal of the University of Georgia is to provide the best possible education to its students; the best possible service to the citizens of the state of Georgia and beyond; and research, discovery and creative achievement of the highest order to benefit Georgia, the nation and the world.

Achieving the University of Georgia's institutional goal requires the following elements:

- * Comprehensive strength in undergraduate educational programs.
- * Premier graduate and professional programs.
- * A faculty of national and international distinction.
- * Premier research and scholarship.
- * A culturally diverse and inclusive academic community.
- * Strong ties between the University and external constituencies.
- * A comprehensive learning community and a working environment of high quality.
- * A leading outreach program to extend knowledge and expertise to the people of the state and beyond.

The University of Georgia Strategic Plan will be made up of the set of strategic plans which delineate plans of primary organizational units and an institutional strategic plan. The institutional plan will be used as the compass by which operational plans will be developed. Operational plans include:

- * the academic plan, including research, outreach and public service, and student affairs;
- * the physical plan, including plans for capital outlay, renovation, and maintenance of the University's physical plant;

The University of Georgia Strategic Planning Advisory Group appointed by the President and led by the Vice President for Strategic Planning is guiding the development of unit-specific and institutional strategic plans. The group is assisting in the development of unit plans, providing guidance in ensuring coordination among unit plans, and assisting in the development of the overall institutional strategic plan.

CHRONOLOGICAL HIGHLIGHTS IN THE HISTORY OF THE UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA

Year		Year
1784	Legislature granted 40,000 acres and named Board of Trustees for University of Georgia	1869	AB curriculum was reduced from four to two years; junior and senior years became elective
1785	Legislature adopted UGA charter	1870	Master of Arts became an earned degree, based on a prescribed course of study on campus
1801	Franklin College of Arts and Sciences held first classes	1872	By executive order, UGA was designated the state's land-grant institution
1803	Demosthenian Society was founded		State College of Agriculture and the Mechanic Arts opened for operation as a department of the university
1804	First commencement exercises were held and first honorary degrees awarded	1874	Medical College of Georgia at Augusta became Medical Department of UGA
1811	Trustees suspended institution for several months	1878	Trustees adopted changes in degree programs, abandoning the elective in favor of a fixed curriculum for each program. Instead of one degree (AB) in Arts and Sciences, there would be three (Bachelor of Arts, with emphasis on Latin and Greek; Bachelor of Science, requiring only one classical language; Bachelor of Philosophy, stressing modern languages). Three degrees were possible in the Agricultural College: Bachelor of Agriculture, Bachelor of Engineering, Bachelor of Chemistry.
1816	President Brown and other professors resigned under pressure from trustees, and the university was again dissolved until January 1, 1817	1881	General Assembly abolished tuition fees for all students

1834	Alumni Society was organized	1889	Board of Trustees was reorganized to include one member from each congressional district, two from Athens, and four from the state at large
1842	Legislature stopped providing annual appropriation; UGA remained "private in support and public in control" until 1875	1891	State Normal School was established at Athens as a branch of UGA; became Georgia State Teachers College in 1927
1854	William Terrell gave university $20,000 to establish a department of agriculture	1892	Intercollegiate athletics were introduced to university; first football game was against Mercer
1859	Trustees accepted plan to expand and reorganize UGA into several schools (medical school, law school, agriculture school, engineering school) and authorized granting of the following degrees: Bachelor of Arts, Master of Arts, Bachelor of Laws, Doctor of Medicine, Doctor of Philosophy, Doctor of Divinity, and Doctor of Laws. This was an effort to change UGA's status from a small classical college to a true university.	1901	By act of the General Assembly, UGA began receiving regular maintenance appropriations from the state
	Lumpkin Law School was established
1864-66	University was closed during Civil War
1866	First social fraternity (Sigma Alpha Epsilon) was organized
	Trustees authorized establishment of School of Civil Engineering

THE UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA
ALMA MATER

(Verses)

From the hills of Georgia's northland
Beams thy noble brow,
And the sons of Georgia rising
Pledge with sacred vow.

'Neath the pine trees' stately shadow
Spread thy riches rare.
And thy sons, dear Alma Mater,
Will thy treasures share.

And thy daughters proudly join thee,
Take their rightful place,
Side by side into the future,
Equal dreams embrace.

Through the ages, Alma Mater,
Men will look to thee;
Thou the fairest of the Southland,
Georgia's Varsity.

(Chorus)

Alma Mater, thee we'll honor,
True and loyal be,
Ever crowned with praise and glory,
Georgia, hail to thee.

Tune: "Annie Lisle" (c. 1870) by H.S. Thompson

Arrangements: Hugh Hodgson, class of 1915; Thomas Y. Wallace, B.M. '70, M.F.A. '72

Lyrics: J.B. Wright, Jr., Class of 1912; Third verse by Gail Carter Dendy, B.A. '74, M.A. '81

Note: In response to a request by the University Council for more inclusionary language in the Alma Mater, the third verse was added in 1990.

STUDENT RELATED INFORMATION

THE DIVISION OF STUDENT AFFAIRS is responsible for student services, educational support services and programs, and learning experiences gained through out-of-classroom activities. Student Affairs interacts with students through organized services, programs, and facilities to create a campus responsive to individual student needs. Its mission is to enhance students' academic, physical and social well-being at the university. Ten departments report to the Vice President for Student Affairs.

The Department of Counseling and Testing provides comprehensive counseling and testing services to the University community. Service areas include individual and career counseling, group programs, outreach programs, consultation, training, administration of national and University-wide testing programs, computer-based testing, and test-scoring services.

The Department of Disability Services provides academic and support services to qualified students with disabilities to ensure equal access to all programs and activities at the University. The mission of Disability Services is to create an accessible academic, social and physical environment for students with disabilities. The department also seeks to foster positive attitudinal and behavioral responses from faculty and staff who interact with people with disabilities. To accomplish these goals, staff provide direct services to students and routinely consult with the University community regarding disability access issues

The Office of Student Financial Aid encourages students to apply for student financial aid, applies a consistent and equitable procedure to determine the aid eligibility of students, allocates resources to students who are to receive assistance, coordinates all student financial aid packages to prevent over-awards, and reports to the Board of Regents, the federal government, and University officials all aid awarded to University students.

The University Health Center is a comprehensive primary healthcare facility serving students and their spouses. A limited range of services also are available to faculty and staff. It is fully accredited by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations. Services offered include urgent care, general medical care, mental health care, women's health care, and dental care. Specialty clinical services such as travel medicine and allergy care are also provided. Health education and health counseling on a variety of topics are also offered.

The Department of University Housing provides on-campus residence hall and family housing accommodations for students. In addition, a variety of social, educational, and recreational programs are provided to promote individual growth and development. The department serves as a liaison between the University and those fraternity and sorority house corporations with houses on University property.

The Department of Judicial Programs administers the University judicial system, consults with faculty, staff, and students about various problems, and develops or assists with in-service education programs. The department has responsibility for reviewing on-campus student parking appeals.

The Department of Minority Services and Programs provides leadership and direction in the area of minority student affairs by facilitating and coordinating outreach, cultural, and support programs for minority students; contributes to the enhancement of multicultural dimensions of the University community; serves as a resource for the University community on minority related issues; and guides the development of the African American Cultural Center.

The Department of Student Activities is responsible for student clubs and organizations, the University Union, the yearbook, the radio station, fraternity and sorority life, student government, leadership development, Communiversity, the National Student Exchange, international student life, Legion Pool, and the processing of student identification cards. The department is housed in the Tate Student Center and Memorial Hall.

CONT'D: THE DIVISION OF STUDENT AFFAIRS

The Department of Recreational Sports provides diverse recreational sports programming including intramural sports, outdoor recreation (GORP), club sports, informal sports, fitness and instruction programs, and special events. The department manages the Ramsey Student Center for Physical Activities, a 430,000-square-foot facility with five gymnasias, three pools, a 9700-square-foot strength and conditioning room, ten racquetball courts, two squash courts, 1/8 mile track, and a 44-foot high climbing wall. The Recreational Sports Complex of fields and tennis courts, Lake Herrick Beach, and the Ropes Challenge Course also are managed by this department.

The Department of Student Information Systems provides computer-based services to the Division of Student Affairs by developing, programming and helping to implement computer systems for various administrative services.

The Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs administers a number of services and programs, in addition to supervising the ten departments. University withdrawals, all course withdrawals after the mid-term, division publications, liaison for the Campus Ministry Association, student affairs research, staff development, and budget coordination all originate from this office. The office provides advisement for the Arch Society, Student Government Association, University Round Table, Brief Encounters, and the Golden Key National Honor Society. Office staff members include a Student Affairs Legal Advisor available for student and staff consultation and the Student Affairs Development Director.

RESEARCH, SERVICE, AND
AUXILIARY AND ADMINISTRATIVE UNITS

THE ACADEMIC COMPUTING CENTER is a service unit of the College of Education established to provide the following kinds of services primarily, but not exclusively, for College of Education faculty and students: data analyses, research design consultation, and statistical consultation. Assistance is also available for faculty and students using SPSS and SAS in their own analyses. Contractual arrangements also are made with public and private agencies for these services. <http://www.coe.uga.edu/acc>

ACADEMIC SPECIAL PROGRAMS devises and implements innovative techniques to identify, contact, recruit, and prepare students to succeed and flourish in an increasingly complex and highly technical world. We strive to provide strong preparation and advisement for college study and lifelong learning. Our mission is to recruit students who are better prepared to succeed in college. Included in these efforts are programs and activities which might positively enhance the respect for and acceptance of the University of Georgia by outstanding students. The office's main programs are the Georgia Science and Engineering Fair the Georgia Junior Science and Humanities Symposium, Advanced Placement Institutes and the District I History Day Program. The office contributes time and effort in support of the Governor's Honors Program for gifted high school students, the University's Undergraduate Admissions Office, the International Science and Engineering Fair, National Junior Science Humanities Symposium and a workshop program for the state's science and math teachers. <http://www.uga.edu/~osap/>

THE AGRICULTURAL EXPERIMENT STATIONS seek and verify new knowledge through research in the many fields related to agriculture. There are three main stations at Athens, Griffin, and Tifton and seven research education centers at Attapulgus, Blairsville, Calhoun, Eatonton, Midville, Plains and Savannah. Research projects are conducted in agricultural and applied economics, biological and agricultural engineering, crop and soil sciences, animal and dairy science, entomology, environmental sciences, food science and technology, forest resources, family and consumer sciences, horticulture, plant pathology, and poultry science. <http://www.griffin.peachnet.edu/ugaexpstn.html>

THE ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE CENTER offers a graduate program in artificial intelligence. The center supports and encourages interdisciplinary research and service activities involving its graduate students and faculty from several departments and schools. Through its Artificial Intelligence Laboratory, its Industrial Partnership Program, and its research report series, the center promotes the integration of artificial intelligence technology by industry and government agencies in the state and the nation. <http://ai.uga.edu>

AUXILIARY SERVICES, including the University Bookstore, Campus Transit System, Food Services, University Golf Course, University Printing, University Vending, and University Parking Services, are supported by income generated from the sale of merchandise and services to students, faculty, and staff. Financially self-supporting, these auxiliary units are related to the educational objectives of the University. <http://www.busfin.uga.edu/auxiliary/>

Campus Transit System operates a fleet of 41 buses for students, staff, and faculty when the University is in session. Daytime service is provided on nine routes from 7:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. Night service is provided on three routes Monday through Friday from 6:00 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. Van service is available for disabled students, staff, and faculty unable to use regularly scheduled buses. Buses are available to charter for educational-related purposes. <http://busfin.uga.edu/transit/>

University Bookstore is a retail facility specializing in textbooks, general books, specialized and general school supplies, computer software and supplies, UGA clothing and novelties, and convenience items. Books not carried in stock may be procured through special order. <http://www.bookstore.uga.edu>

University Food Services seeks to satisfy the food service needs of students, faculty, and staff with a variety of wholesome foods served at reasonable prices. Four dining facilities--Bolton Hall, Snelling Hall, Oglethorpe Hall, and Tate Center--are maintained by University Food Services for its customers. McWhorter Dining Hall serves participants in athletic programs. University Food Services provides banquet services and catering from the Tate Center facility. <http://www.uga.edu/~food-serv>

University Golf Course is a teaching and recreational facility available to students, faculty, staff, alumni, and their dependents, plus conferees. The 18-hole championship course, designed by Robert Trent Jones, includes driving range, putting greens, and chipping green. "Golfing weather" hours are weekdays from 8:00 a.m. until sundown, and weekends and holidays from 7:30 a.m. until sundown.

The Pro Shop carries a complete line of golfing equipment and supplies. <http://www.busfin.uga.edu/golf/>

University Printing provides quality offset printing services for University offices and departments. Services include design phototypesetting from manuscript or word processing disk, paste-up, negative and plate work, press work, and bindery/finishing work. The plant is staffed and equipped to produce stationery, business cards, office forms, brochures, booklets, programs, posters, journals, and perfect-bound books. Several sizes and types of presses enable University Printing to produce everything from simple single-color jobs to sophisticated four-color process work in the quantity required. <http://www.busfin.uga.edu/printing/>

University Vending locates vending machines throughout campus for the benefit of students, faculty, and staff. The equipment and service are operated and maintained by private contractors. In addition to food and beverage vending, the program includes coin-operated telephones and change machines. <http://www.busfin.uga.edu/vending/>

University Parking Services provides specified parking lots for commuter students, campus housing residents, graduate students, faculty, staff, and handicapped persons. In addition to the lots for registered vehicles, a high-rise parking deck next to the Georgia Center for Continuing Education and several pay-by-the-hour lots in heavy traffic areas of campus are provided for visitors and to accommodate University personnel for short periods of time. <http://www.parking.uga.edu>

THE JAMES C. BONBRIGHT UTILITIES CENTER is a research center that operates out of the Terry College of Business. The center conducts research and organizes conferences that focus specifically on regulatory policy as it relates to the electric, natural gas, and telecommunications industries. The center's main goal is to serve the training and educational needs of industry executives, public utility commissioners, federal, state and municipal government officials, and researchers in the public and private sectors, including those associated with universities, and professionals in accounting, finance, and law. <http://www.terry.uga.edu/jbcntr/>

THE HIMAN BROWN AUDIO PRODUCTION CENTER was established in 1988 as part of the College of Journalism and Mass Communication and named in honor of the man whose radio mystery and adventure shows earned him the title "Mr. Radio Drama." The center is devoted to education and building a future for radio drama and audio in general. Its responsibilities include scholarships, curriculum development, grant procurement, and production of new shows and workshops. It also functions as an archival depository for old and new shows and a distribution center for audio educational material for middle schools and high schools. <http://www.uga.edu/rcisp/hbapc.htm>

THE CENTER FOR ADVANCED ULTRASTRUCTURAL RESEARCH serves the University System by providing a repository of facilities and expertise to assist in pursuing and achieving research and instructional needs employing advanced microscopical instrumentation. A variety of light and electron microscopes as well as complete darkroom and image processing facilities are available for use. The center assists researchers from nearly every science-related discipline at UGA and is recognized as a regional asset to scientists throughout the southeastern United States. The center reports to the Dean of the Franklin College of Arts and Sciences and also serves the private sector. <http://www.uga.edu/caur/>

THE CENTER FOR APPLIED ISOTOPE STUDIES is a multidisciplinary, self-supporting research facility focusing on the use of state-of-the-art technology to resolve current problems. Emphasis is placed on the use of nuclear analytical tools and methodologies in applied research. The CAIS plays a strong support role on the UGA campus by assisting academic departments, research units, and individuals with problems related to instrumentation, methods, and techniques in isotopic analysis. The CAIS also provides analytical services to the scientific and industrial communities nationally and internationally. <http://www.uga.edu/cais/>

THE CENTER FOR ARCHAEOLOGICAL SCIENCES promotes and coordinates research between the humanities--archaeology, anthropology, and art history--and the sciences--geology, geochemistry, chemistry, and biology. The center coordinates the research of University scholars in fields relating to archaeology and art history, facilitates collaboration with experts outside the University, serves as a resource center of laboratory equipment and technical support for archaeologists, art historians, and museums worldwide, and coordinates interdisciplinary undergraduate and graduate degree programs in the archaeological sciences. <http://www.uga.edu/archsciences/>

THE CENTER FOR ASIAN STUDIES exists to nurture and guide academic programs and exchanges on Asia for students, faculty, and appropriate staff members. The programs focus on language and area studies, but also involve students and faculty from law, business, agriculture, education, journalism, veterinary medicine, and the arts and sciences. Specific purposes and programs focus on: 1) curriculum planning, review, and development in modern Asian languages and related area studies; 2) cultural programs and a program of distinguished Asianist speakers and visitors; 3) student and faculty exchange agreements such as that at Kagoshima University in Japan; 4) development of library and related instructional and research facilities; 5) planning and application for external funding for Asian Studies at UGA; and 6) research and research collaboration on East Asia. <http://www.uga.edu/cas/>

THE CENTER FOR BIOLOGICAL RESOURCE RECOVERY conducts basic research in areas related to the use of microorganisms in biotechnology and in solving environmental and ecological problems. Center faculty members represent Biochemistry and Molecular Biology, Marine Programs, and Microbiology at the University of Georgia School of Forestry and the USDA Richard B. Russell Research Center. The center promotes interaction among members, provides education of pre- and postdoctoral students through seminar programs and courses, establishes contacts and cooperation with industries and governmental agencies, and seeks international cooperation.

The center is committed to extending the biotechnology required for the use of microorganisms as inexpensive and energy-efficient catalysts for converting the earth's main renewable resource, biomass, to desired products. Studies include biochemistry and genetics of microorganisms that have potential uses in practical processes related to agriculture, forestry, pulp and paper, and biochemical industries, and that may be important for ecological and other environmental considerations. <http://www.uga.edu/rcisp/cfbr.htm>

THE CENTER FOR COMPUTATIONAL QUANTUM CHEMISTRY seeks to develop theoretical and computational methods through mathematical models for describing and understanding the movement and function of electrons in molecules and to apply the theoretical methods to significant problems of broad chemical interest. Areas of current special concern include: (1) the mechanism of chemical vapor deposition, critical to the fabrication of devices for the microelectronics industry (2) the potential energy hypersurfaces that govern elementary gas-phase chemical reactions, particularly those important in combustion; (3) molecular anions of fundamental importance in atmospheric and environmental chemistry; (4) fundamental problems in physical organic chemistry involving, for example, carbenes and other biradical species and systems such as [10] annulene; and (5) hydrogen bonding in systems such as the hydrogen fluoride, water, and methanol oligomers. <http://zopyros.ccqc.uga.edu/>

THE CENTER FOR ECONOMIC EDUCATION, an ongoing program of the Department of Social Science Education with assistance from the Terry College of Business, exists to increase the level of economic literacy in Georgia through the improvement of economics instruction in Georgia schools. The center provides in-service teacher training, develops instructional materials, and encourages innovation in economic education. <http://www.uga.edu/rcisp/cfec.htm>

THE CENTER FOR ENVIRONMENTAL BIOTECHNOLOGY is an interdisciplinary collaboration among scientists in the School of Marine Programs, the Institute of Ecology, and other units of the University involved in environmental science. Its major objectives are to develop and apply new biotechnologies to study and solve environmental problems, to develop protocols for biotechnology risk assessment and improvement of product efficacy, and to develop long-term linkages between University researchers and industrial users of bioengineered microbes and other products.

THE CENTER FOR FAMILY RESEARCH, a component of the Institute for Behavioral Research, is an interdisciplinary unit of social and behavioral scientists that seeks to promote the understanding of the family through research. The center facilitates the exchange of information and ideas about family research across disciplinary boundaries; enhances research efforts of faculty members, including the ability of both emerging and eminent scholars to obtain extramural funding; and facilitates the development of young scholars. Colloquia, conferences, and seminars are offered for faculty and students on a regular basis. <http://www.uga.edu/rcisp/cffr.htm>

THE CENTER FOR FOOD SAFETY AND QUALITY ENHANCEMENT in the College of Agricultural and Environmental Sciences at the Georgia Experiment Station in Griffin develops and improves methods for detecting, enumerating, controlling, and eliminating pathogenic microorganisms in foods. The center develops methods to quantitate, prevent formation, and eliminate microbial toxins in foods and studies mechanisms of pathogenicity of food borne pathogens. Center programs also address physical and chemical attributes affecting quality and storage stability and consumer attitudes and perceptions of food quality.

THE CENTER FOR FOREST BUSINESS, housed in the Daniel B. Warnell School of Forest Resources, was established in 1997 to integrate the business aspects of forest production and processing with the biological and ecological requirements of sustainable production. The center provides timely, relevant education, research, and service programs to business and industry leaders, forest landowners, and students. The center's mission is to provide national leadership in education, research, and service to the forest industry and private landowners in the following areas: integration of sound forest business principles and practices with contemporary biological and quantitative methods to achieve sustainable forest production; investigation of forest resources and forest industry alternatives that are economically competitive in the global marketplace; and proposal of market-based solutions to forest resource problems and opportunities. The center's principal activities will focus on: a graduate program to educate professionals to successfully occupy senior-level positions in private industry and public organizations; research to improve planning and provide financial analyses to forest industry and private forest landowners; and service programs to educate professionals and organizations about the financial, biological and social components of intensive forest production.
<http://www.forestry.uga.edu/warnell/cfb/>

THE CENTER FOR HUMANITIES AND ARTS promotes scholarly inquiry and creative activity in the humanities and the arts by supporting faculty research grants, lectures, symposia, publications, visiting scholars, visiting artists, collaborative instruction, and public conferences, exhibitions, and performances. Under its Humanities-Science Interface Initiative, the center facilitates intellectual exchange and scholarly collaboration among humanists, social scientists, and scientists in the exploration of social and scientific values. In its Initiative for Global Understanding, the center addresses cultural and political issues related to the emergence of a global society. <http://www.cha.uga.edu>

THE CENTER FOR INSURANCE EDUCATION AND RESEARCH conducts research on questions of short- and long-term interest to the insurance community and provides periodic seminars and conferences on issues facing the industry. The center also sponsors continuing education programs for the insurance industry in Georgia and gives financial support to students and faculty of risk management and insurance.
<http://www.uga.edu/rcisp/cfear.htm>

THE CENTER FOR INTERNATIONAL TRADE AND SECURITY (CITS), is an interdisciplinary and inter-university research, teaching, and service project designed to contribute to enlightened trade and security policies. CITS produces policy-relevant research on political, economic, and security issues related to international trade and technology transfer. The center encourages and coordinates collaborative activities within the University, the state, the nation, and overseas. CITS currently directs international projects in North America, Europe, the former Soviet Union, and Asia. <http://www.uga.edu/cits>

THE CENTER FOR LATIN AMERICAN AND CARIBBEAN STUDIES (CLACS) coordinates interdisciplinary research, curriculum offerings, and public programs dealing with Latin America and the Caribbean and provides lectures, seminars and conferences on campus. Through colloquia, travelogues, cultural events and outreach, the center brings together faculty from University colleges and schools currently engaged in work related to this region of the world. An innovative program, Graduate Student Field Research Travel Awards, allows students to conduct preliminary thesis or dissertation work in Latin America. The Certificate Program in Latin American Studies serves undergraduate students. With an endowment from the Murphy Foundation, CLACS operates the Latin American Ethnobotanical Garden on campus, with sister gardens in several countries.
<http://www.uga.edu/clacs/>

THE CENTER FOR METALLOENZYME STUDIES encourages cooperative research to determine how vital metalloenzymes function and how they are synthesized and regulated by cells. Through collaborative research, discussions, and seminars, enhanced knowledge is generated about enzymes that catalyze life-supporting reactions such as nitrogen fixation, sulfur interconversions, and hydrogen production. Use of the latest technologies and analytical equipment enables center faculty and its postdoctorate and graduate students to perform critical experiments and to organize state-of-the-art courses in bioinorganic chemistry, biochemistry, enzymology, fermentation technology, and anaerobic techniques as applied to metalloenzyme production, structure, and function. The center was awarded a 10-year, $2.5 million NSF Research Training Group grant in October 1990. <http://www.uga.edu/~cms>

THE CENTER FOR REMOTE SENSING AND MAPPING SCIENCE (CRMS) undertakes interdisciplinary research projects requiring the development of image and map data processing technologies for applications in the physical, biological, and mapping sciences. Typical projects include: evaluations of the cartographic potential of Shuttle Imaging Radar and proposed imaging systems data; photogrammetric assessments of erosion from United States cropland; and automated feature extraction for digital map revision from satellite images and geographical information system (GIS) studies of agricultural land, wetlands, and tropical forests to assess man's impact on the environment. CRMS undertakes service projects requiring the transfer of mapping technologies and provides technical assistance to universities and local, state, and federal agencies. <http://www.crms.uga.edu>

THE CENTER FOR RESEARCH ON BEHAVIORAL HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES DELIVERY, affiliated with the Institute for Behavioral Research, supports interdisciplinary research activities on deviance, health, human service delivery systems and the management of productivity problems in the workplace. Its faculty, predoctoral fellows, staff, and graduate students from a variety of departments assist investigators who are conducting research or seeking research funds from federal agencies and private foundations. Primary research topics include alcoholism, psychiatric illness, drug abuse, the management of pain, health communications, human resources management, service delivery to the elderly, children with psychiatric disorders, interpersonal violence, workplace management of alcohol and drug abuse problems, and systems for health care delivery. The center houses a predoctoral research training program supported by the National Institutes of Health. <http://www.ibr.uga.edu>

THE CENTER FOR SIMULATIONAL PHYSICS functions as a center for research and training in simulational physics, with emphasis on the use of supercomputers and parallel processing on coupled workstations. Topical areas range from fundamental statistical mechanics and strongly correlated electron systems to materials science and stellar atmospheres. New algorithm development is encouraged. Because of this work, close interaction with the University Computing and Networking Services is maintained, and collaborative research programs with major institutions in the United States and Europe are developed. The center hosts an annual international workshop. The center's staff consists of research and adjunct professors, visiting research scientists, and postdoctoral associates. <http://www.csp.uga.edu>

THE CENTER FOR SOCIAL SERVICES RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT provides technical and problem-solving assistance in the development of new patterns and approaches to the delivery of social services. Center faculty and staff engage in applied research, training, technical assistance, and consultation on a variety of current and emerging issues in the broad field of human services. They design specific projects in cooperation with leaders in policy, management, and practice roles in the wide variety of social service organizations throughout the state. The center provides a structure for the development of partnerships with divisions of government as well as private organizations, supporting their efforts to improve decision-making, program implementation, technology transfer, service monitoring and evaluation, innovation and change. Collaborative learning across projects and shared resources for proposal development, data collection and analysis, and dissemination enable the center to add value beyond the efforts of individual faculty members.

THE CENTER FOR SOYBEAN IMPROVEMENT (CSI) promotes interdisciplinary and inter-university collaboration among scientists and support staff interested in soybean research and education. The CSI facilitates research that will result in the development of superior yielding, drought tolerant, and multiple pest resistant soybean cultivars and improved management systems. Research is also addressing the development of cultivars with unique combinations of value-added traits and new technologies to improve the efficiency of cultivar development. The CSI hosts an annual workshop to encourage the development of interdisciplinary and inter-university programs and enhance skills of center members. A newsletter informs center members, support groups, and clientele of center activities and accomplishments. <http://mars.cropsoil.uga.edu/csi/>

THE CENTER FOR THE STUDY OF GLOBAL ISSUES (GLOBIS) coordinates and promotes international and interdisciplinary research, service, and instruction in global studies. The center focuses on issues which are distinctly international, comparative, or transnational in character, such as the unfinished task of organizing a durable peace in a nuclear world, growing pressures of expanding populations on limited resources, and continuing threats to elemental human rights. Center programs are located at the University and abroad at regional offices in Verona, Italy, and Kyoto, Japan. The branch offices coordinate the conduct of programs carried out in Asia and Europe. <http://www.uga.edu/globis/>

THE CENTER FOR TROPICAL AND EMERGING GLOBAL DISEASES (CTEGD) is a cross-college, interdisciplinary center and collaborative effort between Arts and Sciences and the School of Veterinary Medicine. It was established to support and promote the development of research, service and educational programs related to tropical and emerging diseases. It seeks to focus research and educational attention on formerly tropical diseases that have emerged from isolated areas and are now having a significant impact on a world-wide basis. The research focus of the center includes the immunology, cell biology, biochemistry and molecular biology of protozoan and metazoan parasites, and the biology of vectors of infectious agents. <http://www.uga.edu/ctegd/>

THE COCA-COLA CENTER FOR INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS supports Terry College of Business global programs. Activities include managing exchange programs with international academic institutions, hosting international visitors, and sponsoring international executive education programs. The center oversees internships in the global economy for Terry College students, develops new global partners for the College, and provides grants to students and faculty who participate in the College's international programs. <http://www.uga.edu/cccb/>

THE COCA-COLA CENTER FOR MARKETING STUDIES supports the Marketing Department within the Terry College of Business in its mission to develop leading-edge educational and research programs concerning marketing research, market intelligence, customer analysis, and the application of organizational knowledge to the development of innovative marketing and sales strategies and programs. The Master of Marketing Research program, a nationally recognized graduate program, is supported and administered by the center. The center also works to maintain and strengthen relations within the marketing research community. <http://www.terry.uga.edu/mmr/>

THE COMPLEX CARBOHYDRATE RESEARCH CENTER (CCRC) includes a U.S. Department of Energy-funded Center for Plant and Microbial Complex Carbohydrates and a National Institutes of Health Resource Center for Biomedical Complex Carbohydrates, both in their third five years of operation. The CCRC studies the structures and functions of the complex carbohydrates of plants, microbes, and animals. CCRC scientists investigate the chemistry and the physiological, developmental, and molecular biology of complex carbohydrates having biological importance, using advanced analytical techniques, including mass spectrometry, nuclear magnetic resonance (NMR) spectroscopy, computer modeling, tissue culture, immunocytochemistry, recombinant genetics, and chemical and enzymatic synthesis. Organized to optimize cooperation and collaboration among disciplines both within the CCRC and with scientists elsewhere, the CCRC's 81,000-square-foot building is specifically designed for the interdisciplinary and equipment-intensive nature of carbohydrate science. CCRC faculty hold joint appointments in the departments of Biochemistry and Molecular Biology, Chemistry, Botany, and Plant Pathology. The CCRC provides analytical services to scientists, offers hands-on laboratory training courses each summer for scientists from academia and industry, and develops computer software to assist the study of complex carbohydrates. The Complex Carbohydrate Structure Database (CCSD) and its search program, CarbBank, were written and developed by CCRC scientists. The CCRC operates a Georgia Research Alliance Regional NMR Center providing the analytical capabilities of a high-field 800-MHz spectrometer to scientists at Georgia's research universities. CCRC researchers are currently collaborating on more than 140 research projects with scientists in 28 states and 16 countries. <http://www.ccr.uga.edu>

THE COMPUTATIONAL CENTER FOR MOLECULAR STRUCTURE AND DESIGN (CCMSD), with the advent of powerful computers and sophisticated graphics workstations, can more effectively pursue many of the most fundamental problems at the interface of chemistry, biology, and physics. The CCMSD, under the leadership of Professors Norman L. Allinger, Director, and J. Phillip Bowen, Co-Director, was formally dedicated in December 1992 by Governor Zell Miller. Center research focuses on understanding molecular structures and interactions and on developing new computational procedures, primarily in the area of molecular mechanics and molecular modeling methods. The center is equipped with well over a million dollars worth of state-of-the-art graphics workstations, computer hardware, and computational chemistry software donated by the private sector. A seminar series, Frontiers in Molecular Modeling, has been developed and is supported by the Burroughs Wellcome Foundation and Rhône-Poulenc. The center, in association with the American Chemical Society, sponsors short courses and workshops in computational chemistry and molecular modeling. <http://europa.chem.uga.edu/>

THE COOPERATIVE EXTENSION SERVICE is an educational service arm for the University, providing information and training to Georgia citizens. Staff members, representing the University of Georgia College of Agricultural and Environmental Sciences, collaborate with other college faculty, the U.S. Department of Agriculture, and county government to present educational programs in agriculture, the environment, family and consumer sciences, and 4-H and youth development. Research-based educational programs are developed at the local level by county extension agents in response to needs articulated by local citizens. The Rural Development Center located at Tifton, a facility of the Cooperative Extension Service, offers programs that address agricultural and forest production efficiency, advanced marketing techniques and use of farm and forest commodities, and family and youth issues. <http://www.ces.uga.edu/>

THE COUNSELING AND TESTING CENTER provides individual and group counseling for personal and career concerns, a variety of developmental groups, outreach and consultation services, and an extensive testing program. Services are primarily for students, but outreach and consultation services are available for faculty and staff. Services can be tailored to meet the needs of particular groups including those comprised of underrepresented populations. Our Career Information Center contains current information on numerous occupational alternatives as well as a computerized career decision-making system, SIGI-PLUS. An ECHD 3050 course on Choosing a Major or Career Goal is also offered through the Center. The center serves as a training site for graduate students in Counseling Psychology and supports a pre-doctoral internship that is fully accredited by the American Psychological Association. The center is fully accredited by the International Association of Counseling Services. <http://www.uga.edu/counseling/>

THE JAMES M. COX, JR., CENTER FOR INTERNATIONAL MASS COMMUNICATION TRAINING AND RESEARCH facilitates international mass communication training and research programs in which scholars from the United States and foreign countries, students, and mass communication professionals can cooperate. The center helps coordinate efforts to improve the state of knowledge in the field and to encourage practical training, education, and service projects. <http://www.grady.uga.edu/coxcenter/>

THE JAMES M. COX, JR., INSTITUTE FOR NEWSPAPER MANAGEMENT STUDIES was created with funding from the James M. Cox, Jr., Foundation of Atlanta to assist undergraduate and graduate students studying the management skills and journalistic techniques necessary for efficient, profitable, and socially responsible operation of newspapers in today's complex society. The institute funds research projects dealing with managerial and operational problems confronting newspaper strategists and collaborates with other nationally recognized training institutes to conduct professional seminars for journalists. <http://www.grady.uga.edu/cox/>

THE CURRICULUM MATERIALS CENTER (CMC), administered by the University Libraries and housed in the College of Education, provides a balanced and up-to-date collection of print and nonprint educational materials produced for use with children from preschool through grade twelve. Adult education materials are also included. The collection supports the instructional program of the College of Education, methods and practicum courses in the education curriculum, and children's and young adult literature courses. CMC services include reference, circulation, and bibliographic instruction. <http://www.coe.uga.edu/cmc/>

THE DOWDEN CENTER FOR NEW MEDIA STUDIES, founded in the College of Journalism and Mass Communication with a donation from Thomas C. Dowden, operates as a think tank for the new media industries that have evolved from the convergence of computer and telecommunication technology. The center publishes research, sponsors seminars, evaluates technology, and trains students and telecommunication professionals. <http://www.dowden.grady.uga.edu>

THE EQUAL OPPORTUNITY OFFICE (EOO) has oversight responsibility for University compliance with federal and state laws addressing access to employment and enrollment as well as program, service, and activity opportunities at the University. As such, the EOO is the University's official contact for compliance matters for such agencies as the Georgia Commission on Equal Opportunity, U.S. Department of Education-Office for Civil Rights, U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, and U.S. Department of Labor-Office of Federal Contract Compliance Programs. The EOO represents the institutional position before those agencies. The EOO also administers the UGA Affirmative Action Plan with the assistance of coordinators in major units of the University.

THE J. W. FANNING INSTITUTE FOR LEADERSHIP, founded in 1982, is a public service outreach unit named for Vice President and Professor Emeritus J. W. Fanning, considered by many to be the "father of leadership" in Georgia. The Fanning Institute's vision—to change the world through leadership development—is articulated in the mission: "We serve people who desire to develop leadership within themselves and others."

Two foundations of Fanning Institute curricula and programs are J. W. Fanning's ten Pillars of Leadership and the belief that the effective leader seeks mastery of self (self-knowledge), mastery of relationships (working with others) and mastery of action (setting and achieving relevant goals). Each offering considers the head (knowledge), heart (integrity) and feet (action) of leadership in the settings in which participants function.

Institute goals are realized through multi-disciplinary program development, delivery and evaluation; curricula and publications; database resources; technical assistance; applied research and trend identification. Faculty expertise includes the fields of community, youth and organizational leadership with an emphasis in experiential education. The Fanning Institute serves as the state's university-based clearinghouse for information on leadership development. <http://www.fanning.uga.edu>

THE FINANCIAL AND STUDENT INFORMATION SYSTEMS departments provide computer-based information system services to designated administrative units of the University of Georgia. Service involves maintenance of existing computer applications systems; modification and expansion of those systems to meet changing user requirements; assistance and training of user departments; development of state-of-the-art user-oriented applications systems; data base planning; coordination and consultation; and provision of data entry and production scheduling services.

THE UGA FITNESS CENTER operates as a laboratory experience for undergraduate and graduate students interested in adult fitness and cardiac rehabilitation. Service programs offered to faculty, staff, students, and community members are designed to enhance health and fitness. The programs include Adult Fitness for the apparently healthy adult with few risk factors; Senior Adult Fitness for seniors over the age of 55; and Cardiac Rehabilitation for those who have heart disease, have had surgery or a prior heart attack, or are at extremely high risk for heart disease. The Fitness Center offers complete health and fitness screening, including a physician-supervised treadmill stress test, computerized health risk analysis, skinfold determination of percent body fat, resting 12-lead ECG, and pulmonary function, flexibility, and muscular strength determinations. <http://www.coe.uga.edu/exs/fitness>

THE GEORGIA CENTER FOR CONTINUING EDUCATION plans and implements educational programs in response to the diverse needs of adults throughout Georgia, the nation, and other countries. Needs are expressed individually or through a range of governmental agencies, business and professional organizations, and civic, cultural, and educational groups. The center delivers a complex, comprehensive educational program for credit, noncredit, and certification through residential conferences and short courses; on-campus and off-campus programs; audioconferences and teleconferences; independent study; mass media; and National Public Radio (WUGA-FM, 91.7 and 97.9). Distance education opportunities are provided by Independent Study, television programs, and by the Web Instructional Development Department offering courses via computer instruction. The center's electronic classroom is equipped to deliver two-way audio and video via digital compression. It is connected to the statewide distance learning system, Georgia State Academic and Medical System (GSAMS), which has over 400 receive sites around Georgia and provides access to Georgia Public Television and the Georgia Center satellite uplink. Other services include cooperative programming with other institutions of higher education; television production; print design and production; media library operations; and consultation and supportive services. The center's food and lodging facilities may be reserved by all who visit the University. <http://www.gactr.uga.edu>

GEORGIA MUSEUM OF ART, founded by Alfred H. Holbrook in 1948, shares the mission of the University and exists to collect, preserve, exhibit, and interpret significant works of art. Designated by the state legislature as the official State Museum of Art in 1982, the museum's permanent collection now numbers over 7,000 works of art. Its primary collections are American paintings produced since 1830 and a broad survey of American and European prints produced since the 16th century. Additional significant collections include European Old Master paintings and Japanese prints. Works in the collection and curatorial files are available for study by students and scholars. An active publications program includes a quarterly museum newsletter and catalogues for selected exhibitions organized by the museum. Lectures, gallery talks, films, family days, and other events complement major traveling exhibitions and exhibitions from its own collections. The museum shop offers a variety of arts-related items. The friends of the museum, the museum's membership organization, hosts fundraising events and sponsors museum programming. <http://www.uga.edu/gamuseum/>

THE GEORGIA REVIEW, winner of the National Magazine Award in Fiction, is an internationally known journal of arts and letters published by the University since 1947. Its quarterly issues feature a blend of the best in contemporary thought and writing--essays, poetry, fiction, and book reviews--together with inviting art works.

Accessible to the informed, nonspecialist reader, The Review appeals across disciplinary lines by drawing from a wide range of interests, including literature, history, philosophy, science, architecture, film, and the musical and visual arts. As an additional service to the Athens campus, The Review organizes and sponsors periodic readings by some of America's most prominent poets and fiction writers. <http://www.uga.edu/~garev>

THE HONORS PROGRAM provides participants with special Honors classes in the freshmen and sophomore core curriculum, Honors courses in a variety of majors, the opportunity to design and pursue independent interdisciplinary majors, more intensive versions of courses required for departmental majors, and independent study under faculty supervision culminating in an Honors thesis or project. In addition to individualized advising throughout their education, the program provides students with special support for graduate and professional school application, as well as national fellowship and scholarship competitions. The Honors Program is open to qualified undergraduates in all of the University's schools and colleges. The most prestigious undergraduate scholarship is the Foundation Fellowship. Eighteen awards were made to entering freshman for the fall class of 1999. <http://www.uga.edu/honors/>

THE HOUSING AND DEMOGRAPHICS RESEARCH CENTER (HDRC) provides sound housing research, promotes a more rational regulatory environment for the building community, and disseminates research findings to policy-makers, interested parties, and the general public. The HDRC was created in partnership with the Research Center of the National Association of Home Builders and was officially recognized as a center in June 1996. It is part of a network of housing research centers located regionally at major research universities. The faculty have garnered support from the Athens-Clarke County government, the Department of Community Affairs, the Georgia Department of Human Resources, the Georgia Department of Transportation, the National Association of Housing Counselors and Agencies, Inc., and SMART House Limited Partnership, Inc., among others. <http://www.fcs.uga.edu/hce/hdrc/>

THE INSTITUTE FOR AFRICAN AMERICAN STUDIES provides distinguished research and teaching in African American culture and civilization. In addition it has a strongly supportive role in the scholarly mentoring of undergraduate and graduate students and in providing academic services for the University community at large. Through cooperation of departments in coordinating courses in the area, an Undergraduate Degree or Certificate in African American Studies is offered. In addition to the certificate, the program sponsors events that support a quality education. <http://www.uga.edu/iaas/>

THE INSTITUTE FOR BEHAVIORAL RESEARCH is an interdisciplinary umbrella organization for the social and behavioral sciences on campus. Its constituent centers and research groups include the Center for Family Research, the Center for Research on Deviance and Behavioral Health, the Contextual Research Group, the Methods and Models Group, and the Survey Research Center. The institute facilitates quality, interdisciplinary research in the behavioral sciences by providing an atmosphere in which scholars from different disciplines from the University's various schools and colleges meet frequently to share information about ongoing research. The institute also administers a Faculty Research Mentoring Program for faculty in the social and behavioral sciences. <http://linux.ibr.uga.edu>

THE INSTITUTE FOR NATURAL PRODUCTS RESEARCH carries out a broad range of research on naturally occurring substances of plant origin, with particular attention to plant species of Georgia and the Southeast. Projects involve research on alkaloids, terpenes, antitumor agents, phytoalexins; the development of new synthetic methods; and the application of modern spectroscopic methods to structure elucidation problems. Research involves the isolation and elucidation of chemical structures of new compounds possibly useful as drugs for the treatment of human disease. The institute serves as a training center for visiting faculty and for postdoctorate and graduate students who are working in natural products research.

THE INSTITUTE OF CONTINUING JUDICIAL EDUCATION OF GEORGIA, housed at the University of Georgia School of Law, plans and conducts more than 160 seminar days each year for the basic professional development and continuing education of judges and other personnel of the Georgia court system. It maintains an audio-visual library, together with special monographs on judicial practice. It supports participation by selected personnel of the judicial branch in programs conducted by national training agencies. This past year its programs reached more than 3,200 judges and court support personnel.

THE INSTITUTE OF CONTINUING LEGAL EDUCATION IN GEORGIA was organized in 1965 and is a consortium of the accredited law schools in Georgia and the State Bar of Georgia. Housed in the historic Joseph Henry Lumpkin House and A. G. Cleveland Building, the ICLE offers programs for the general practitioner and the specialist. The majority of the more than 175 programs are presented in various locations around the state. Many are videotaped and replayed at sites around the state, as well as offered to local bar associations and firms for use in continuing legal education. More than 24,000 attorneys attended the live, videotaped, and the 14 national live-via-satellite programs last year. The ICLE Print Shop prepared 178 publications last year and distributed more than 43,000 new and reprinted copies of ICLE publications. <http://www.iclega.org>

THE INSTITUTE OF ECOLOGY'S 31 regular faculty plus additional courtesy and adjunct faculty teach a full array of ecology courses and offer the Ph.D. in Ecology, two Master of Science degrees (Ecology, and Conservation Ecology and Sustainable Development), a Bachelor of Science in Ecology, and a Graduate Certificate in Conservation Ecology and Sustainable Development. The institute encourages multidisciplinary research and service activities in ecology involving faculty and graduate students from a variety of departments, schools, and research sites. In addition to laboratory facilities on campus in the Ecology Building, access to excellent research facilities off-campus may be arranged at the Savannah River Ecology Laboratory in the coastal plain of South Carolina, Coweeta Hydrologic Laboratory (a member of the NSF's Long Term Ecological Research site network) in the Appalachians of North Carolina, and the Joseph Jones Ecological Research Center in south Georgia. Other field sites include the McGarity Wetlands and Odum Watershed in Georgia, Sapelo Island off of the Georgia coast, and international sites in Ecuador, Guatemala, Costa Rica and Puerto Rico. Agro-ecological research is conducted on the institute's nearby Horseshoe Bend site. The institute supports applied and basic research in marine, freshwater, and terrestrial ecosystems in temperate and tropical regions with active programs in physiological, behavioral, biophysical and evolutionary aspects of ecology. Its service programs aid schools, communities, industry, and government through special short courses and participatory research. The institute administratively reports to the Franklin College of Arts and Sciences and the Office of the Vice President for Research. <http://www.ecology.uga.edu/>

THE INSTITUTE OF HIGHER EDUCATION provides numerous services and resources, including a doctoral program in higher education, for the professional development of college administrators and faculty members. The staff works with two- and four-year colleges on curriculum development, program evaluation, institutional research, leadership and management support skills, and overall administrative effectiveness. Under cooperative arrangements with other agencies and institutions, the institute contributes to the development and improvement of higher education throughout the state and the nation. Each year the Faculty Development in Georgia (FDIG) program provides opportunities for ten faculty members in Georgia colleges to continue their graduate education at the University of Georgia. In cooperation with the Office of Instructional Support and Development, the institute conducts the Governor's Teaching Fellows Program in an effort to improve the quality of undergraduate education through the effective use of technological innovations in classroom instruction. <http://www.uga.edu/ihe/>

INSTITUTE ON HUMAN DEVELOPMENT AND DISABILITY: A UNIVERSITY AFFILIATED PROGRAM (IHDD) works with the University community, professionals and service providers to create opportunities that will improve the quality of life for people with disabilities and their families. All activities designed to achieve its mission are based on the principles of full community inclusion, respect for the unique characteristics of all individuals and families, the provision of competency- and value-based educational experiences, and promotion of provisions of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). It works in close partnership with the Governor's Council on Developmental Disabilities of Georgia, the Georgia Advocacy Office and its own consumer Advisory Group to identify and achieve its goals. Reflected throughout its projects are the core functions of preservice training, outreach, technical assistance, dissemination, and research. <http://www.uap.uga.edu/>

THE INTERNATIONAL CENTER FOR DEMOCRATIC GOVERNANCE, part of the University of Georgia's Carl Vinson Institute of Government, grew out of the Institute's activities abroad. The center's mission is to help build the administrative and governance capacities of the world's emerging democracies through two types of assistance. First, it transfers knowledge and expertise to public officials by building on the varied international experience of the Vinson Institute faculty. Second, the center works directly with universities abroad to help them develop their own university-based outreach programs. The center is currently managing projects in the Republic of Georgia, China, Ukraine, and Macedonia and last year conducted a training program with Georgia State University in Uganda. <http://www.cviog.uga.edu>

THE LEARNING AND PERFORMANCE SUPPORT LABORATORY (LPSL) conducts research and development projects exploring how computational and communication technologies can be used to enhance learning and performance support environments. The LPSL, affiliated with University's college of Education,

Engages in research in interactive learning environments, cognition and learning with emerging technologies, electronic support systems, assessment of technology's impact and effect on learning performance, and educational applications of telecommunications and information technologies. The LPSL is committed to research and development that will establish a leading-edge capability in the State of Georgia for technology-enhanced learning, performance assessment, and information access at all levels of education, training, and work. The LPSL is also committed to developing partnerships and research collaboration with other institutions, businesses, and agencies in the state, the nation, and internationally. <http://lpsi.coe.uga.edu/>

THE LEARNING DISABILITIES CENTER is nationally recognized for its quality services, evaluations, research, and distance education in the field of learning disabilities. Focusing on adults with learning disabilities, the center has three components. The service component, supported by the University of Georgia, provides specialized academic assistance and psychological counseling to UGA students with learning disabilities. The evaluation component is supported by the University System of Georgia Board of Regents and provides diagnostic assessment and consultation for students and service providers from eight Georgia colleges. The LDC also houses the Distance Learning Link, a state-of-the-art satellite teleconference unit. The center is the only one in the United States designated specifically to provide research and training on the population of adults with learning disabilities. <http://www.coe.uga.edu/lcenter/>

THE LEGAL AID AND DEFENDER CLINIC is operated by the University of Georgia School of Law and is under contract with the Athens-Clarke County Unified Government and Oconee County. The clinic provides legal representation to indigents in criminal and juvenile court cases. Attorneys from the clinic appear in all courts in both counties where criminal matters are considered and are assisted in their work by second and third year law students. Third year law students actively represent clients in court under the supervision of one of the clinic attorneys. <http://uga.edu/legalaid/>

THE MCPHAUL CHILDREN'S PROGRAMS provide a developmentally appropriate full day program for University and community families with children from 5 to 15 months; a full-day program for children 3 years old; a pre-kindergarten classroom for children 4 years old; and two Head Start programs for children 3 to 4 years old. Classrooms include children with special needs. Center programs: 1) provide training opportunities for University students in the Department of Child and Family Development to observe and interact with young children and their families; 2) conduct research on the development of children and families and ways to optimize their development; and 3) provide a quality developmental program directly to young children and channel other resources of the College of Family and Consumer Sciences to families.

THE MCPHAUL MARRIAGE AND FAMILY THERAPY CLINIC serves University students and faculty as well as Athens-Clarke County and Northeast Georgia. A part of the marriage and family therapy doctoral program in the Department of Child and Family Development, one of nine doctoral programs nationally accredited by the American Association for Marriage and Family Therapy (AAMFT), McPhaul MFT Clinic offers individual, couple, and family therapy for a variety of problems and issues. Therapists are doctoral level students supervised by faculty who are AAMFT approved supervisors and licensed marriage and family therapists. Clinical research also is conducted. Fees for services are on a sliding fee schedule, and arrangements can be made for all financial situations. <http://fcs.uga.edu/cfd/mft/mftfacil.html>

THE MUSCLE BIOLOGY LABORATORY is used for research by faculty, postdoctoral fellows, graduate students, visiting scientists, and technical staff in the Department of Exercise Science. Research is directed toward mechanisms underlying the physiological and biochemical responses of the neuromuscular system to acute or chronic alterations in physical activity. Research is funded by the National Institutes of Health, Department of Veterans Affairs, Paralyzed Veterans of America, and several private corporations. <http://www.uga.edu/rcisp/mbl.htm>

THE NATIONAL ENVIRONMENTALLY SOUND PRODUCTION AGRICULTURE LABORATORY (NESPAL) enables scientists to find better ways to grow food and fiber crops while protecting the environment. The only one of its type in the United States, the Tifton lab provides high quality laboratories and multi disciplinary research and extension programs to address agricultural systems in environmentally sound, economically viable approaches. The laboratory fosters linkages with traditional and non-traditional public and private sector partners, national agencies, other institutions and foundations. <http://nespal.cpes.peachnet.edu/>

THE NATIONAL ULTRAVIOLET MONITORING PROGRAM operates the UGA/EPA UV Monitoring Network, a spectroradiometer characterization and calibration laboratory, and an instrument development facility. The

UGA/EPA UV Monitoring Network operates and maintains a group of high spectral resolution spectroradiometers throughout the United States which measure full-sky solar UV-B and UV-A spectral flux, from which absolute irradiance and total column ozone concentrations are calculated. The data are analyzed and stored in a data base, located on campus in the National UV Monitoring Center, for dissemination to government and non-government scientists and interested parties. The center also serves as the primary center for calibration, standardization, and maintenance of the UV monitoring instruments of the UGA/EPA UV Monitoring Network. <http://oz.physast.uga.edu>

THE NORTHEAST GEORGIA EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITY CENTER (EOC) is a community-based program funded by the U. S. Department of Education and administered by the University Division of Academic Assistance. The program encourages and assists individuals to enroll in and complete some form of postsecondary education. The project serves 2,000 participants annually, two-thirds of whom are adults of both low-income and first-generation background. The EOC counseling staff serves a 17-county area that includes the counties of Banks, Barrow, Clarke, Elbert, Franklin, Greene, Hancock, Hart, Jackson, Madison, Morgan, Oconee, Oglethorpe, Taliaferro, Walton, Warren, and Wilkes. Services include a computer-based career information system; personal, career, and academic counseling; admissions and financial aid information and application assistance; campus visitations to colleges and universities and vocational and technical schools; career development and study skills workshops; and preparatory sessions for the GED, SAT, ACT, and technical school admissions examinations.

THE NORTHEAST GEORGIA EDUCATIONAL TALENT SEARCH PROGRAM is a school-based educational outreach project funded by the U.S. Department of Education and administered by the University. The program helps schools increase rates of retention, increase high school graduation, and promote enrollment in postsecondary education. The Talent Search project serves 900 6th-12th grade participants annually. Eligible participants are low-income and first-generation students selected from middle and high schools in the northeast Georgia area that ranges from Banks in the north to Hancock in the south, and west from Walton to Elbert in the east. Activities include counseling, study skills, tutoring, career and campus orientation, cultural experiences, parent involvement, admissions and financial aid information, and application assistance. Tutoring is provided at selected middle schools during the academic year. A six-week summer institute is conducted for rising 6th, 7th, 8th, and 9th graders.

THE OFFICE OF INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY, supports approximately 500 faculty and staff and over 5,000 students within the College of Education through three collaborative units. Instructional Services provides the college with a variety of technology-related training sessions as well as the development, design, and production of educational videos, web sites and multimedia CD-ROMs. As a unit within Instructional Support, Media Services provides the college with a variety of traditional print and non-print services including photocopying, faxing, lamination, video and audio tape duplication, and audiovisual equipment and computer checkout. Computer and Networking Resources provides, maintains, and supports the information and instructional technology of the College of Education with a help desk, field service staff, and system and networking specialists. Computer Services also facilitates research, instruction, and collaboration with the college and throughout the K-12 and higher education community through support and management of network computer resources, including web servers, e-mail servers, file servers, and instructional computer labs. The Special Projects unit provides the College of Education with the ability to create special and customizable products and tools in support of instruction, research, outreach and administration.

THE OFFICE OF INSTITUTIONAL RESEARCH AND PLANNING'S central mission is the collection, organization, maintenance, and analysis of institutional and other data to support institutional management, operations, decision-making, and planning functions. Included in this central mission is systematic information processing of University-wide data leading to broadly based institutional perspectives and understanding. Also included are studies related to projected needs, program objectives, and efficiency and effectiveness in the use of institutional resources. IRP publishes the University's Fact Book and the Faculty Register. The office also maintains a growing web site of organizational information with extensive student, faculty, staff and facilities data. <http://www.uga.edu/irp/>

THE OFFICE OF INSTRUCTIONAL SUPPORT AND DEVELOPMENT (OISD), a unit of the Office of the Vice President of Instruction, coordinates campus-wide services for instructional support and improvement. The office is advised by the Instructional Advisory Committee comprised of representatives from all of the University's colleges and schools and from Services and Student Affairs. OISD activities are organized under five general program areas: Teaching Assistant (TA) Support, Faculty Development, Course/Instructional Development,

Creative Services, and Instructional Resources. Included among the programs of the office are the TA Mentors Program, the campus-wide TA Workshop, the Lilly and Senior Teaching Fellows, the International Fellows, the Colloquium for New Faculty, Instructional Improvement Grants, the Instructional Development Laboratory, audio/video production, photographic services, audio-visual equipment, a comprehensive media library, and the campus cable television system. OISD provides individualized consultation to faculty and department heads who seek assistance with any aspect of teaching, including application of instructional technology. <http://www.isd.uga.edu>

THE OFFICE OF INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT encourages a broader vision and understanding of the increasingly interdependent world and global economy. The office compiles and maintains information on faculty and staff with international experience. It systematically identifies opportunities with governments, development banks, and foundations to facilitate student and faculty involvement in international collaborative research, technology transfer, and exchange relationships with colleagues abroad, particularly in the developing nations. The office provides assistance in proposal writing and project administration to foster these activities of mutual benefit to UGA and its international partners.

The office serves as a clearinghouse for all international activities at the University. The office has spearheaded UGA involvement in highly successful projects in Burkina Faso, Brazil, Mexico, Argentina, the Caribbean, and Eastern Europe. The office currently administers international projects funded by U.S. government agencies, foreign governments, and foundations. International Development facilitates advanced long-term training for foreign students, coordinates short-term training programs for professionals from developing countries, and organizes development programs for UGA and University System faculty and staff. Community outreach programs include presentations, lectures, and co-sponsorship of international conferences. <http://www.intldev.uga.edu/>

THE OFFICE OF THE UNIVERSITY ARCHITECTS FOR FACILITIES PLANNING assists the University administration in planning the physical development of the University of Georgia and its related agencies. It plans, coordinates, and implements construction projects on and off campus and serves as liaison agent between the University and the Board of Regents Office of Facilities. The office helps departments conceptualize proposed projects and assists in site determination, selection of architects and engineers, preparation of detailed project programs, coordination of preliminary and final plans, administration of construction, and development of master plans. The office also provides an information center for new construction matters and assists in proposals for funding new projects. <http://www.busfin.uga.edu/planning>

THE GEORGE FOSTER PEABODY AWARDS recognize excellence and achievement in radio and television. Categories for entry include news, documentary, entertainment, education, programs for children, public service, and individual achievement. The awards program, administered by the Henry W. Grady College of Journalism and Mass Communication, was established at the University in 1939 and the first awards presented in 1940. Each spring the Peabody National Advisory Board meets on campus to select the annual recipients based on recommendations of student and faculty screening committees. Peabody Awards are presented at an annual all-industry banquet in New York sponsored by the University. Programs and other material submitted by entrants are preserved in The Peabody Collection of The University of Georgia Libraries. Representing the best of broadcasting for more than fifty years, The Peabody Collection is considered one of the world's most important archives of moving image and sound recordings. <http://peabody.uga.edu/peabody/>

THE PERFORMING ARTS CENTER, a magnificent facility located within the University's Performing and Visual Arts Complex on East Campus, houses two music recital halls: Hugh Hodgson Concert Hall is named for the founder of the UGA School of Music and seats 1,100 in a festival-style setting where seats surround the stage; Ramsey Concert Hall is the smaller venue seating 360 and is named in honor of the late Bernard Ramsey, a major benefactor of the University. Both halls boast superb acoustics and state-of-the-art recording systems. The Performing Arts Center, voted Best Suburban Arts Scene by Atlanta magazine, serves as a showcase for world-class performers and ensembles such as San Francisco Western Opera Theater, the Atlanta Symphony Orchestra, the Chamber Music Society of Lincoln Center, and Russia's famed St. Petersburg Philharmonic Orchestra. <http://www.uga.edu/pac>

THE PLANT CENTER fosters and supports interactions among those members of the University of Georgia research community who share common interests in cellular and molecular aspects of plant growth and development, in plant genome organization and function, in the application of molecular and genetic tools to improve cultivated plants, and in organisms that interact with plants. The Plant Center hosts a regular seminar series, organizes an annual scientific retreat to encourage the development of interdisciplinary research, and sponsors symposia and technical workshops. <http://www.plantcenter.uga.edu/>

THE POULTRY DIAGNOSTIC AND RESEARCH CENTER carries out basic and applied research programs on diseases which are of economic importance to Georgia's poultry industry. Diagnostic, laboratory, and consultative services are provided to individuals and groups in all phases of poultry production. The center houses the Department of Avian Medicine of the College of Veterinary Medicine. The department teaches courses in avian medicine to veterinary and poultry science students and directs graduate students in avian medicine, medical microbiology, veterinary pathology, and poultry science. <http://www.avian.uga.edu/>

THE PSYCHOLOGY CLINIC is an independent community mental health facility operated by the Clinical Psychology Training Program of the Department of Psychology at the University of Georgia. The clinic seeks to provide specialized psychological services to the community and to serve as a training facility for the Clinical Psychology Program. Quality services are provided to faculty, staff, and students and to the surrounding community on a sliding scale basis. The Psychology Clinic offers a wide range of treatment and assessment services to meet the varied psychological needs of the people in the northeast Georgia area. Psychotherapy is available for depression, anxiety disorders (panic, post-traumatic stress, obsessive-compulsive, and social anxiety disorders), marital and family problems, chronic pain, a variety of children's problems, and other problem areas. Specialized neuropsychological and memory assessment services are available. All initial contacts are free of charge.

THE PUBLIC SAFETY DIVISION administers a program to provide safety and security to members of the University of Georgia community. The University of Georgia Police Department, a major component in the Public Safety Division, is comprised of employees with full police authority in the State of Georgia and operates 24 hours a day, seven days a week. An essential proactive aspect of the Police Department is the Crime Prevention Bureau which provides education and training to the University community in order to eliminate conditions which might lead to criminal acts. Services provided by the Police Department include an Escort Van Service and emergency telephones which are located at strategic points on campus. <http://www.ps.uga.edu>

THE RAMSEY CENTER FOR PRIVATE ENTERPRISE has as its major mission the furtherance of understanding of the principles of private enterprise. The center engages in research studies that demonstrate the benefits of economic decisions made in a competitive environment and in teaching undergraduate and graduate students the principles of private enterprise, the theoretical underpinnings of market economies, and other appropriate subjects. In addition to its teaching and research functions, the center carries on an active service program involving public lectures and seminars dealing with the private enterprise system. <http://www.uga.edu/rcisp/rcfpe.htm>

THE DEAN RUSK CENTER FOR INTERNATIONAL AND COMPARATIVE LAW was founded in 1977 as part of the School of Law to improve the effectiveness of relations among citizens, private sector entities, and government at the local, state, federal, and international levels. Using advanced electronic information-processing techniques, the center's professional staff and part-time researchers mobilize University, business, and governmental resources to develop theoretical and practical approaches to improve the efficiency of governance, trade, and investment. On occasion the center helps implement the approaches by providing private and public sectors with essential manpower and information. In the past the Dean Rusk Center developed several major initiatives for federal action concerning North American cooperation and overseas trade regulation and representation. It also has analyzed new approaches for expanding Georgia agricultural exports. The center publishes research reports, holds conferences, and sponsors research for Georgia citizens that cover fiscal and monetary policy, international arrangements, and domestic affairs. <http://www.uga.edu/ruskctr/>

THE SAVANNAH RIVER ECOLOGY LABORATORY (SREL) is a research unit of the University of Georgia. The overall mission of the laboratory is to acquire and communicate knowledge of ecological processes and principles. SREL conducts basic and applied ecological research as well as education and outreach programs under a cooperative agreement with the U.S. Department of Energy (DOE) at the Savannah River Site near Aiken, South Carolina. <http://www.uga.edu/srel/>

THE SCHOOL OF MARINE PROGRAMS is responsible for the coordination and general management of the Marine Institute, the Marine Extension Service, the Georgia Sea Grant College Program, the Department of Marine Sciences, and the Environmental Ethics Certificate Program. The School conducts a wide range of marine-related programs involving undergraduate and graduate instruction, basic and applied research, and outreach/public service.

The Marine Institute, located on Sapelo Island, was established in 1953 as a research facility for resident staff and for campus-based faculty members. Research has centered mainly on marsh and estuarine ecology to provide an understanding of energy flow, cycling of minerals and nutrients through the marshes and nearby ocean, and factors regulating the metabolism of the salt marsh ecosystem. <http://alpha.marsci.uga.edu/ugami.html>

The Marine Extension Service helps to solve problems related to the state's marine resources. The Marine Resources Center on Skidaway Island is the major marine education facility for schools and colleges in the state. At the Brunswick Extension Station, specialists work directly with the fishing and seafood processing industry to increase its efficiency and effectiveness and to develop new industries. <http://www.marsci.uga.edu/EXT/MAREX.HTML>

The Georgia Sea Grant College Program, part of the National Sea Grant College Program, was established in 1971. In an approach roughly analogous to that of the Land Grant System in working with agriculture, Sea Grant promotes the wise use of marine resources through a coordinated program of research, education, and advisory services. Sustained excellence in all three areas of activity earned Sea Grant College status for the University in 1980, when it became the fifteenth institution in the nation to attain that rank. In 1990, the Sea Grant College status of the University was reaffirmed by the National Sea Grant College Program. <http://www.marsci.uga.edu/gaseagrant.html>

The Department of Marine Sciences, a unit of the Franklin College of Arts and Sciences, is the degree-granting arm of the School of Marine Programs. The department offers an undergraduate major through the Franklin College's Interdisciplinary Studies major as well as the Ph.D. and Master of Science in Marine Sciences. In addition, a proposal to offer the B.S. in Marine Sciences is currently pending. <http://alpha.marsci.uga.edu/>

The Environmental Ethics Certificate Program (EECP) is a nationally recognized program offering undergraduate and graduate training in the development of critical decision-making on issues of human involvement with the natural environment. In 1996, the EECP joined the School of Marine Programs as its newest unit, creating a uniquely diverse team focusing on ethical questions pertaining to human stewardship of marine resources. <http://www.phil.uga.edu/eecp>

THE SIMON S. SELIG, JR. CENTER FOR ECONOMIC GROWTH serves the state by issuing economic forecasts, conducting applied economic research, and publishing research findings and economic statistics. The Selig Center is a major source of information for national, regional, state, and local media. The center also provides information to business leaders, government agencies, and the general public and is an official cooperating agency with the U.S. Bureau of Economic Analysis and the Construction Statistics Division, U.S. Bureau of the Census. Selig Center faculty serve as economic and financial advisors to many public and private organizations.

The Selig Center hosts economic forecasting luncheons in Albany, Augusta, Atlanta, Brunswick, Columbus, Macon, Savannah, and Thomasville. The annual Georgia Economic Outlook publication provides accurate forecasts and detailed commentary on ten economic sectors: agriculture, biotechnology, communications, construction, E-commerce, public utilities, financial markets, manufacturing, services, and retailing. The Selig Center's bimonthly business periodical, Georgia Business and Economic Conditions, features articles on various aspects of the state's economy. Specialized monographs and the Georgia Statistical Abstract also inform the public. <http://www.selig.uga.edu/>

THE SPEECH-LANGUAGE AND HEARING CLINIC is a self-supporting clinic within the Communication Sciences and Disorders Department providing comprehensive and up-to-date evaluation and therapy services for individuals of all ages with speech, language or hearing problems. The clinic serves as a student training facility and provides services to the community. In addition to providing evaluation or treatment of articulation, including accent reduction, stuttering, voice, language delay/disorder, and hearing impairment, the clinic offers specialized services and clinics including: hearing aid fitting (including programmable hearing aids), Central Auditory Processing testing, the summer Program for Hearing Impaired Children, the Summer Speech and Language Program for preschool children, and other specialized diagnostic services. Individuals may be self-referred, referred by a physician, or by other professionals such as teachers.

<http://www.coe.edu/csdclinic>

THE STATE BOTANICAL GARDEN OF GEORGIA is a public non-profit educational facility under the auspices of the University of Georgia. Its mission is to foster appreciation, understanding, and stewardship of plants and nature through research, collections and displays, horticultural gardens, and educational programs. The garden is located at 2450 South Milledge Avenue, one mile south of the Athens South Bypass (U.S. 129/441). Founded in 1968, the garden now encompasses over 300 acres, much of which borders the Middle Oconee River. The garden features a number of specialty gardens and collections plus five miles of nature trails. The Visitor Center/Conservatory features a permanent display of tropical and semitropical plants along with classrooms, offices, a gift shop, and a cafe which serves lunch daily except Mondays. Meeting, conference, and special event facilities are available in the Visitor Center, Callaway Building, Garden Club of Georgia state headquarters building and Day Chapel. The Garden is open daily from 8:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. April through September and 8:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. October through March except on UGA holidays. The Visitor Center/Conservatory is open Tuesday through Saturday from 9:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and on Sundays from 11:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. <http://www.uga.edu/botgarden/>

THE SURVEY RESEARCH CENTER, a unit of the Institute for Behavioral Research, serves the data collection and analysis needs of the University and the larger community. The center's services encompass all aspects of the design and implementation of survey research projects and includes sampling and measurement, data collection and coding, data management and analysis, and report preparation and interpretation. These combined services are available for the execution of complete studies or any single service or combination of services can be contracted. The center can provide clients with the latest developments in survey interviewing methodologies and computer-assisted telephone interviewing (CATI), thus substantially shortening the time required for data collection and analysis. The center can also provide clients with the ability to conduct web based and Interactive Voice Recognition (IVR) survey projects. In the fall and spring of each year, the center conducts the Georgia Poll, a regular omnibus survey of the state's population. Individuals unable to justify purchasing an independent survey may subscribe to a particular poll by purchasing a question or series of questions of their choice. Results for each subscriber are reported along with a battery of standard socio-demographic indices of background attributes. <http://www.src.ibr.uga.edu>

THE TORRANCE CENTER FOR CREATIVE STUDIES, a unit in the Department of Educational Psychology, is a research and instructional center concerned with the identification and development of creative potential. The center accomplishes its purpose by developing, implementing, and evaluating projects at the local, national, and international levels. Programs sponsored by the Torrance Center include the Challenge Programs, the Georgia Future Problem Solving Program, and the E. Paul Torrance Lecture. The center offers training in creativity testing and in innovative educational programs such as the Future Problem Solving Program, the school Wide Enrichment Model, and Edu-K (Brain Gym for Educators). <http://www.coe.edu/torrance>

THE UNIVERSITY COMPUTING AND NETWORKING SERVICES (UCNS), is a service unit within the Office of the Senior Vice President for Academic Affairs and Provost, under the executive authority of the Chief Information Officer and Associate Provost for Computing and Networking. UCNS is responsible for operation and support of the major shared institutional computing and data communications facilities at the University of Georgia. In addition to general purpose enterprise servers supporting institutional administrative and academic applications, UCNS operates a variety of specialized computing resources supporting research and student services. These include both distributed memory and shared memory high-performance parallel processing facilities for numerically intensive research computing; a visualization laboratory; an artificial intelligence research and instructional laboratory, specialized computational biology application and database servers; a molecular graphics teaching laboratory; a number of open access microcomputer cluster facilities; and campus email, world wide web, news name and curricular content delivery server. In addition, UCNS distributes hundreds of microcomputer software products at reduced prices to University departments via site license arrangements with software developers.

UCNS provides technical consulting, publications, and training to the campus at large on a variety of topics including selection and procurement of hardware and software; site planning for departmental computing facilities; installation of workstation hardware and software; local area and campus networking design and connection; personal workstation and central server systems application software usage; electronic mail messaging and Internet exploration. Discipline specific consulting support is provided in computational physics, biology, chemistry, statistics, and visualization. UCNS also operates a central Help Desk (542-3106) for staff, students, and faculty. They can therefore contact one office to receive information or assistance with questions about information technology resources at UGA.

Access to campus, national, and international computer networks is provided through the data networking services supported by UCNS. Campus connectivity is provided through the TCP/IP protocol which is supported on server resources operated by the UCNS and a pervasive trunk and building cable system. UCNS sponsors University of Georgia membership in the Internet2 project as well as high speed network connectivity to the Abilene network. Commodity Internet connectivity is provided through PeachNet, the higher education network serving the University System of Georgia. <http://www.uga.edu/ucns>

THE UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA BUSINESS OUTREACH SERVICES/GEORGIA SMALL BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT CENTER NETWORK is an innovative, University-based extension effort that provides management training and technical assistance to small businesses, prospective entrepreneurs, and economic groups. Services are offered through a statewide network of twenty offices. Supported by the University System of Georgia and the U.S. Small Business Administration, Business Outreach Services/SBDC provides free consulting services, continuing education programs at minimal cost, and business research. Other business-related activities include: producing studies on local economic development; collecting and disseminating business data statewide; assisting new startup businesses by providing centralized office space and services; promoting international trade among small and medium-sized Georgia firms; advocating minority entrepreneurship and promoting basic services to the minority community; and expanding business development and retention in rural communities. <http://www.sbdc.uga.edu/>

THE UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA GERONTOLOGY CENTER coordinates and promotes multi- and interdisciplinary aging research, training, and outreach at the University of Georgia. The faculty of Gerontology currently number approximately 50 from more than 21 departments and 10 colleges and schools across the university. In addition, a number of nationally and internationally known experts in the field of gerontology provide their expertise as Adjunct Research Scientists through their appointments at the Gerontology Center. The Gerontology Center offers a graduate program of study in the field of gerontology, awarding students a Graduate Certificate of Gerontology. In addition, post-doctoral training opportunities are also available. The center has garnered international recognition for its research on adaptation and survival of the oldest-old (e.g. The Georgia Centenarian Study). The center is the sponsor and hub institution for the Georgia Gerontology Consortium which administers and delivers gerontological programming throughout the University System of Georgia, including: 1) the Distance Learning Partnership in Gerontology, which employs collaborative teaching technologies to deliver four core aging courses to participating universities; 2) a faculty and student Seed Grant Program, which promotes aging research, course, and program development; 3) the Southeastern Regional Student Convention on Gerontology and Geriatrics, which is the nation's first and largest convention training venue designed for and conducted by students-in-aging; and 4) the Faculty, Instruction, Research, and Outreach Development Program, which is the sponsor of the Master Teacher in Gerontology Workshops series. The Gerontology Center maintains a website that contains additional information about the center, its programs, and its faculty. <http://www.geron.uga.edu>

THE UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA LIBRARIES are composed of three major on-campus libraries: the main library, the science library, and the law library administered by the School of Law. Several small collections include the Curriculum Materials Center (Education), the Georgia Center for Continuing Education library, the Veterinary Medicine reading room, and various lab collections. The UGA libraries' system also includes libraries at the experiment stations in Griffin and Tifton and at the marine stations at Sapelo and Skidaway.

The UGA library is the largest library in the state of Georgia and serves as the Regional Depository for federal government publications for the state. It is a member of the prestigious Association of Research Libraries (ARL) consisting of the largest research libraries in North America and ranks in the top 30 of these libraries. The libraries contain more than 3.4 million books, serials, and documents, plus many other items, including manuscripts, photographs, drawings, music scores, audio/video materials, and newspapers. The map collection incorporates nearly 600,000 items, and the microform collection numbers more than 5.6 million. Collections support the University's instructional, research, and public service activities and are available to users on the campus and across the state.

An outstanding feature of the main library is the Hargrett Rare Book and Manuscript Library, a repository of rare and priceless relics. Among the special collections are the works and memorabilia of Erskine Caldwell and Margaret Mitchell, the original Confederate Constitution, Confederate imprints, a notable Georgiana collection, Southern historical manuscripts, and the sheet music of many well-known musicians. The Richard B. Russell Library for Political Research and Studies, an annex to the main library, houses the papers and memorabilia of the late Senator Russell, as well as the papers of former Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Senator Herman E. Talmadge, and many other elected officials and government appointees. The Peabody Award Archives house over 40,000 radio and television programs representing the best in broadcasting.

The University libraries offer a variety of electronic databases. The GALILEO system provides access to more than 100 databases, including indexes, abstracts, full-text journal articles, government publications, reference sources, and links to additional Internet-based resources. In addition to the main catalog, the online system GALIN supports an electronic encyclopedia and indexes to the journal literature of a number of disciplines. GALIN is available in the libraries, across the campus network, or through dial access. Other databases are available through LIBRA, a Novell-based file server connected to the campus network. Statistical databases are available through the Data Services unit in the main library and government produced databases can be found in the Government Documents Department in the main library. More than 460,000 volumes are housed in the University's law library, whose collection of British Commonwealth materials is considered one of the finest of its kind in the nation. <http://www.libs.uga.edu>

THE UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA MUSEUM OF NATURAL HISTORY, designated as the State of Georgia Museum of Natural History, contains the most extensive collection of Georgia natural history artifacts and specimens and is one of the largest university natural history museums in the Southeast. It ranks within the top 50 in the nation in terms of the size of its collections and the scope of its research and technical service programs. The museum has many significant collection areas: Archaeology Collection (3.5 million artifacts and specimens), Botany Herbarium (225,000 plant specimens), Entomology Collections (600,000 pinned, 100,000 slide-mounted, and 30,000 alcohol-preserved insects), Geological Collections (10,000 economic geology ore specimens, 10,000 mineral specimens, and over 10,000 invertebrate and vertebrate fossils), Julian H. Miller Mycological Herbarium (30,000 fungi), Plant Microfossil Laboratory (6,000 reference slides of fossil pollen samples), Zooarchaeology Collection (4,200 comparative reference skeletons), and Zoological Collections (72,000 invertebrates, 400,000 fish, 45,000 amphibians and reptiles, 6,000 birds, and 27,000 mammals).

The museum's collections are crucial to quality education in over 50 specialized graduate and undergraduate courses in the natural sciences at the University. Each year the museum provides loans of educational materials and access to its collections to other institutions of higher education, research units, regional primary and secondary schools, and various state agencies. While the museum is primarily a regional research facility relating to Georgia and the Southeast, the scope of its operations are national and international. As a repository of the definitive collections of Georgia's historical, cultural, and natural heritage, the museum's collections provide essential research resources and data bases for researchers nationwide. Each year the collections process hundreds of loans of artifacts, specimens, and records to other museums and scientists throughout the nation. <http://museum.nhm.uga.edu/>

THE UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA PRESS was founded in 1938 as the publishing arm of the University of Georgia. Its primary mission is to support and enhance the University's place as a major research institution by publishing significant works of scholarship by national and international scholars and its own faculty. Since its founding the Press has published over a thousand new titles. With more than eight hundred in print, the Press publishes about eighty books each year in fields including American history and literature, African-American studies, legal history, history and culture of the South, environmental studies, and natural history.

The Press has more than doubled its publishing program over the past decade. While remaining essentially scholarly in nature and retaining its traditional editorial focus on history and literature, it also has a distinguished nationally recognized publishing program in fiction, poetry, and literary nonfiction. In recent years the Press has built on earlier strengths to become national and international in scope and recognition. It is now one of the preeminent University presses in the South and among the most competitive mid-size presses in the nation. <http://www.uga.edu/ugapress/>

THE UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA RESEARCH FOUNDATION, INC. (UGARF) was formed to serve the University of Georgia and enhance its excellence as a research institution. UGARF was incorporated under the laws of the State of Georgia as a nonprofit corporation on November 17, 1978. In a Memorandum of Understanding dated February 26, 1979, the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia authorized UGARF to serve as the official grantee for all contracts, grants, and gifts for the conduct of sponsored research at the University. External research grants and contracts are awarded to University faculty through The University of Georgia Research Foundation, Inc. Other research activities are supported by UGARF through a number of special programs such as Faculty Research Grants, Foreign Travel Grants, and Creative Research Awards.

UGARF is also the University's invention administration organization. The Invention Administration Agreement effective April 1, 1979, between the Board of Regents and UGARF assigns to UGARF all of the University's right, title, and interest in and to any inventions which result from activities of University personnel. UGARF is organized to assist in the transfer of technology developed through the University's research programs or by University personnel to the benefit of the University of Georgia and the general public. <http://www.ovpr.uga.edu>

THE UNIVERSITY SYSTEM OF GEORGIA (USGA) APPLICANT CLEARINGHOUSE serves as a recruitment aid for the 34 institutions of higher education in the University System of Georgia. Its purpose is to enhance equal employment opportunity by posting faculty and administrative position vacancies, maintaining a computerized registry of potential faculty administrators for search committee review, and cross matching between the two databases on the basis of academic discipline and registrant interest. <http://uga.edu/ach/>

THE VETERINARY MEDICAL DIAGNOSTIC AND INVESTIGATIONAL LABORATORIES at Athens and Tifton process over 100,000 requests for assistance each year. The laboratories are staffed and equipped to provide diagnostic service to the Georgia Department of Agriculture, the Georgia livestock industry, and animal owners of Georgia through a policy of referral by practicing veterinarians. <http://www.vet.uga.edu/erc/diagnostic/index.html>

THE VETERINARY MEDICAL EXPERIMENT STATION coordinates and conducts research on disease problems of food- and fiber-producing animals, fish, poultry, and companion animals. The research programs, which have applied, basic, and comparative medical orientation, are divided broadly into four main categories: infectious diseases, noninfectious diseases, diagnostic techniques, and therapeutic procedures. Research facilities are located within the College of Veterinary Medicine at Athens, in the Poultry Diagnostic and Research Center at Athens, and in the Veterinary Diagnostic Assistance Laboratories at Athens and Tifton. Opportunities for graduate training in the biomedical sciences, including biotechnology, are provided by the station's research programs. <http://www.vet.uga.edu>

THE MARILYN VINCENT MOTOR LEARNING LABORATORY, located in the Ramsey Center, was organized to conduct original research on motor behavior and to provide instructional activities for students studying motor behavior. The goals of the research program of the laboratory are to contribute to theory about the acquisition of motor skills and to apply theory to instructional design. The laboratory is staffed by M.A. and Ph.D. students in motor behavior.

THE CARL VINSON INSTITUTE OF GOVERNMENT is dedicated to improving the understanding policy-making, and administration of government. In carrying out this mission, the Vinson Institute engages in a sixfold program that includes continuing education for public officials and leaders through instructional programs and seminars; research on public policy issues and laws affecting state and local government activities; Community and Regional Development: technical assistance to Georgia state and local governments, including school districts; governmental education programs serving students, educators, and the public at large; and an International Center for Democratic Governance, dedicated to helping build the administrative and governance capacities of the world's emerging democracies. By law, the Institute is the provider of training to the Georgia General Assembly. Research with wide general application is made available through the Vinson Institute's publications program which maintains a list of 40 to 50 active titles. Institute publications include research studies on policy issues, manuals on practical methods for improving governmental operations, handbooks for specific governmental offices, compilations of state and federal laws in specific areas, a national public administration journal, and textbooks and other classroom teaching materials. <http://www.cviog.uga.edu/>
